ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR

DUBLIN GETS COLLEGE.

Summer Session June 19th.

The town of Dublin, Va., gets the William and Mary Summer Session, having met all competitors and gone them one better. Several other Southwest towns put forth strenuous efforts to get the summer college, but Dublin seemed to have the best to offer in the way of buildings, grounds and equipments, besides the place is said to be admirably located for the successful conduct of an enterprise of this kind. Whether or not Dublin will be the permanent home of the William and Mary Summer Session depends upon the success of this year.

The regular term of William and Mary closes on June 11. Immediately thereafter, preparations will be made for the summer term. Laboratory apparatus, books from the library, and other accessories will be shipped to Dublin, the summer home of the college.

Dr. J. W. Ritchie of the department of Biology, is director of the summer term, and he is straining every effort to be amply prepared for the opening day. The regular members of the faculty will be in charge, and except for the fact that the session is being held in Dublin there will be no difference from the winter terms.

A professor of the college, in speaking of the selection of Dublin and the effect the summer session will have upon the college and higher education, said yesterday:

"When the Board of Visitors some days ago determined to hold the summer term in Southwest Virginia, the definite location was left to be decided upon by the Faculty. The citizens of five towns, Dublin, Radford, Pearisburg, Christiansburg and Big Stone Gap offered special inducements to have the college come to them and the final choice of a location was difficult to make. The fact that at Dublin the buildings of Dublin Institute would be available had much to do with the selection of that town. Another inducement offered by Dublin was a grove of trees covering a hundred acres, which will be used for outdoor lecture rooms and tent sites.

"This selection is looked upon as being fortunate for both Dublin and the college. It is expected that many teachers and college students from Virginia and other states will attend the summer session, thus adding materially to the summer population of the town, while it is generally agreed among school men that no better or more accessibly located site than Dublin could have been found. Many educators have expressed their gratification at this move to bring the advantages of higher education more fully within the reach of the people."

Cleanup, spring is here. See that your yard is in sanitary condition, that the outhouses are clean and that lime is spread in all dark places. Let the sunshine into all damp and dark places and use lime freely. Do it now, and call on the sergeant to remove the refuse. He is anxious to help you.

Urges Cotton Planting Here

Williamsburg, Va., April 23.
To Whom it May Concern:
I intended to let the people known when I ran my cotton gin, but owing to the rush of business The Gazette had last week it was impossible to get my letter in. But I wish to say that I have had a fine success ginning our cotton. I ginned about 8,000 pounds of fine lint off 1 1-2 acres of land for which I had quotations today at 12 1-4 cents per pound.
8000 lbs. at 12 1-4 $ 98 00
Seed from cotton 20.00

$118.00
Cost Fertilizer $ 9.00
Seed 1.00
Picking 11.00
Ginning 3.00 24.00

Net profit $94.00
Cotton is yet going up. Suppose you try a few acres this year. Mr. L. T. Hankins and I have plenty of seed that you can get. I have a good outfit here and will build a complete gin house and will be prepared to gin your cotton this fall, or will buy it in the seed as fast as you pick it out. Just think about this. Come and get some seed and plant a few acres the first of May. I will advise you how to cultivate it. Get out of the old way and try something new. Plant several crops and one that is sure never to fail.

Mr. Groat tells me that he is figuring with a man to put in a yarn mill here which will consume 3000 bales of cotton a year and will buy all cotton damaged by frost and rain.

The Poultry Yard.

O, the cunning little chicks!
No need of a permit to set an old hen.

Spare some of the skim-milk for the hens.

Broiler prices are somewhat better than they were last month.

The geese should be laying at their best now, and this is, also, the month in which turkeys begin to lay.

Of all fowls ducks are the easiest to raise. The eggs are more fertile than those of any other fowl.

In most latitudes this is the month to hatch out as many chicks as possible. If started well in April, they should lay by the first of November at least.

If your poultry yard has not already some shrubs or trees, plant some for shelter for the fowls on hot days. It is well to have two yards, and sow one with grass while they are living in the other.

In setting hens in April, it is still a good plan to give not more than eleven eggs to a hen, for the nights are still chilly and the hen is apt to crowd out some eggs to the edge of the nest when she has too many to care for.

Sooner or later the chicken thief gets his due, but that does not recompense one for the loss of his stock; therefore, in building chicken houses, care should be exercised in their location and construction to prevent loss through thieves.

Put the windows in the poultry house low down to the floor, so that the hens will get the benefit of the light and sunshine when scratching for their feed. The trouble with windows set high up, is that they let the sunshine in on the perches when the hens are on the floor scratching, and when they are on the roost the sun doesn't shine; so there is no equilibrium in such plans.

Delegates Go Uninstructed

The following is the official report of the James City mass meeting last Saturday:

A mass meeting of the Democratic voters of James City county, which met at Toano, April 20, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Norfolk Convention, was called to order by Mr. C. P. Marston, who was elected chairman.

Dr. H. U. Stephenson moved to elect two delegates to the Norfolk convention with one-half vote each, which was carried, after which Dr. Stephenson and Mr. E. S. Meanley were named and elected as delegates and Messrs. T. H. Stryker and F. C. Stewart were elected alternates.

The question was discussed whether the delegates and alternates go to the convention instructed or uninstructed. The following motion was made by Mr. W. H. Porter and carried: "Resolved, That the delegates elected here go to the Norfolk convention uninstructed as to candidates, but instructed to vote that delegates to the Baltimore convention be uninstructed."

This meeting endorsed the Hon. J. T. Ellyson as state chairman, and the Hon. M. H. Barnes as district committeeman.

Bald Heads Not Wanted.

Baldness is too Generally Considered a Sign of Advanced Age.

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as new employees.

Probably 65 per cent. of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead, their follicles closed, and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and gives satisfaction in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this offer back of our statements no one should scoff, doubt our word, or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one in Williamsburg who is suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair, or baldness to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid us for the remedy for the mere asking. There is no formality expected, and we exact no obligation from the user whatever.

We are established right here in Williamsburg, and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers, and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we could substantiate it in every particular. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Williamsburg Drug Co.

Mrs. R. F. Morris arrived here yesterday from Laurel, Md.

Mr. Tyler's Announcement

To the Voters of the City of Williamsburg,

I have decided to announce myself as a candidate for the City Council, and I solicit your support.

First, I stand for full publicity in all matters of finance and for a vote of the people on all increases or decreases of taxes. I hold that the e should be frequent published statements of the City's financial condition. I am against all secret meetings of the Council, and I believe that all debts and salaries should be promptly paid and that a surplus be gradually laid aside for emergency.

Second, I stand for Progress and Development, having due regard for the City's resources and ability to pay taxes. I am for installing water and sewerage systems in the town, believing that the further growth and progress, its protection from fire, its health and cleanliness depend upon their installation. The town Council should try to develop all municipal enterprises, such as water, sewerage and lighting by private stock companies, rather than by new bond issues, and in all other business endeavors it should be the duty of the Council to encourage, and also its duty to protect the citizens of the town from all impositions by the railroads and express companies.

Third, I stand for Charity and Humanity, believing that the homeless and destitute should be cared for by the City rather than be left to the precarious system of private charity, which now prevails.

Fourth, I stand for an efficient school system and that the Council should prepare for a new school building. In regard to myself, I would like to say that I have lived in this city the greater part of my life, and my father, grandfather and their fathers before them have either lived in or were affiliated with this community, and so the town of my childhood and of my ancestors is dear to me and its interests are my interests. If therefore you can feel that the common good will be furthered by voting for me, please do so, and if elected it will be my pleasure to do all I can to serve you.

I am, very truly yours,
John Tyler.

York County Democrats Meet

Harris Grove, Va., April 19—The York Democratic County Executive Committee met yesterday at Yorktown and reorganized, electing C. H. Shield, county chairman; R. C. Hunt, secretary; and Captain E. W. Maynard, treasurer. After reorganization a mass meeting of the Democrats assembled and elected the following delegates and alternates to the State convention to be held in Norfolk, with one-half vote each; J. C. Maynard, delegate. D. A. Powers, alternate, from Bruton District; C. H. Shield, delegate, and Sydney Smith, alternate, from Nelson District; Robt. N. Howard, delegate, and T. S. Harris, alternate; J. F. Smith, delegate, and J. E. White, alternate, from Grafton District; Captain Wm. J. Stores, delegate, and R. L. Forrest, alternate; Sheriff Thos. Phillips, delegate, and R. C. Hunt, alternate, from Poquoson District. The delegates are uninstructed. The meeting endorsed J. Taylor Ellyson for state chairman, and J. M. Curtis, of Newport News, for state committeeman for the First Congressional District.

The Stock Yard.

The ewes that are suckling lambs should be fed very liberally.

The young lamb will grow rapidly, so give him a chance. There is profit in it.

The sheep quarters, at lambing time especially, should be kept well bedded and very clean.

Good pasture is invaluable in growing pigs successfully.

Milk is the hog's natural food. Give him all of it you can scare up every day.

Consumers are demanding pork with more lean meat. The feeder and breeder should cater to these requirements.

The feeder should try to keep the pig steadily increasing in weight from one-half to one pound each day on average.

Cleanliness is next to godliness—and ahead of it with the milk inspector.

A cow appreciates punctuality in milking, as much as a man does in meals.

Be sure there are no lice on the young stock when they are turned to pasture.

There is money in dairying in spite of a prevalent notion to the contrary, but it needs a combination of good cows and good management to get it out.

"No foot no horse." It won't take long for an ignorant shoer to ruin the best foot.

Look out for the yearling colts. Don't let them get a setback as spring approaches.

A stumbling habit may be caused by poor shoeing; or it may be caused by ignorant or careless hitching.

A colt appreciates the companionship of man, and he should have it especially during the first year of his life. From April Farm Journal.

The Effective Laxative.

Tastes Like and is Eaten Like Candy.

In our experience in the handling of drugs and medicines, we believe we have never had experience with any Remedy that gave such great satisfaction to our customers as do Rexall Orderlies. This Remedy is not like any other laxative or cathartic. It contains all the good features of other laxatives, but none of their faults.

Our own faith in Rexall Orderlies is so strong that we offer them to you with our own positive personal guarantee, that if they do not thoroughly satisfy you, you only need tell us and we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for them. Therefore, in trying them upon our recommendation you take no risk whatever.

Rexall Orderlies taste like and are eaten like candy. They do not gripe, cause nausea, excessive looseness, or any other annoyance. They act so easily that they may be taken at any time, day or night. They are particularly good for children, aged, or delicate persons. They are put up in convenient tablets in three sizes of packages. Prices, 10c., 25c., and 50c.

Remember, Rexall Remedies can be obtained in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, The Williamsburg Drug Co., Williamsburg, Virginia.

Notes Here and There.

The fruit thus far is safe and there are fine prospects for a good fruit year. The slight frosts of the present week have apparently done no damage to the buds.

Mr. Paul Driscoll, of Toano, spent last Friday in Richmond, on business.

UNINTERESTING CAMPAIGN.

Only a Few Offer for Council.

With the primary only a few days off, candidates are few and far between and when the list closes tomorrow it will not be filled to overflowing. Up to yesterday afternoon only five men had paid the entrance fee for the primary, as follows: R. L. Spencer, E. H. Proctor, Galba Vaiden, R. T. Casey, John Tyler and W. L. Jones.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Tyler decided Tuesday that they would enter the contest, after friends had prevailed upon them to do so. Mr. Tyler has a very comprehensive platform in today's paper, and will prove interesting reading to those who are anxious to know just what the candidate stands for. He makes it very clear, as did another candidate last week.

Mr. Jones is running as a "booster" candidate and says if elected he will do the most he can to "boost" Williamsburg and put the good old town in the "going" class.

The last day for entering the primary is tomorrow at 12 o'clock Friday, April 26th. If you are going to be a candidate, see Mr. H. D. Cole and pay the fee. The contest is open to every Democrat who cares to enter. If you think you will make a good city councilman, do not keep your talents hid, but come into the race. It is time for men to act so that we shall have a representative list to pick from.

The candidates who have thus far announced themselves are good men. It is up to the voters to say if they think they will make good councilmen. Sometimes even good men are failures as public officers. It is to be hoped that the new council will not be failures and that the people will not have misplaced their confidence when the fight is over.

There has been practically no "ginger" in the present campaign. The public is slow in asking what the various candidates stand for and only a few have made public just why they want to be on the next council and what they propose to do after they get there. That is really what the public is interested in and the public has a right to know why a man is seeking the office.

Besides voting for mayor and city councilmen in next Tuesday's primary, the Democrats will elect a delegate to the Norfolk convention. There was nothing in the call of the committee about the election of a delegate, but the names of candidates will be printed on the ticket. T. H. Geddy, N. L. Henley and Col. L. W. Lane are mentioned as possible candidates for the honor, and there will probably be others. There will be no chance for a preferential expression as between aspirants for the presidential nomination. Wilson, Clark and Harmon have a following here, with the former in the lead.
